

Biography of William E. Strawderman

Personal Data

Date of Birth: April 25, 1941
Place of birth: Westerly, Rhode Island
Citizenship: U.S.A.

Education

Rutgers University, Ph.D., (Statistics) 1969
Rutgers University, M.S., (Statistics) 1967
Cornell University, M.S., (Mathematics) 1965
Rhode Island, B.S., (Engineering Math) 1963

Positions Held

1992– Professor, Department of Statistics, Rutgers University, Piscataway, NJ
2011– Adjunct Professor, Department of Mathematics, Sherbrooke University, CA
2001– Faculty Visitor, National Institute of Standards and Technology
1989–1992 Professor and Chairman, Department of Statistics, Rutgers University
1989–2002 Adjunct Professor, University of Medicine and Dentistry of NJ
1984–1989 Professor, Department of Statistics, Rutgers University
1977–1983 Professor and Chairman, Department of Statistics, Rutgers University
1976–1977 Professor, Department of Statistics, Rutgers University
1972–1976 Associate Professor, Department of Statistics, Rutgers University
1970–1972 Assistant Professor, Department of Statistics, Rutgers University
1969–1970 Acting Assistant Professor, Department of Statistics, Stanford University
1969–1970 Instructor in Applied and Mathematical Statistics, Rutgers University
1965–1967 Member of Technical Staff, Bell Telephone Laboratories, Holmdel, NJ

Academic Honors

Institute of Mathematical Statistics (Fellow)
American Statistical Association (Fellow)
2003 Rutgers University Statistics Department, Alumni Achievement Award
2005 Rutgers University Graduate School, Distinguished Alumni Award in Science
2008 American Statistical Association, Youden Prize (with Andrew Rukhin)

Professional Activities

International Statistical Institute (Elected Member)
1983 Vice President Northern New Jersey Chapter, American Statistical Association